Orphans Fill, XVIII Doesn't!

We've found players to fill the openings in the orphaned COLONIAL DIPLOMACY and KINGMAKER games, so these will get in full swing next time. We are still three shy to start "Boris XVIII" our next DIPLOMACY game. Looking ahead, KREMLIN could end next time, "Knights Tale" will end no later than Turn 11, and "Ernat" could finish soon too, what with Zieske only one VP from victory.

So start thinking of what next should be played here and sign up. Better yet, volunteer to GM your favorite game here.

IMMEDIATE GAME OPENINGS:

DIPLOMACY: All positions available.

BORIS'S BULLETIN BOARD

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH: "An ounce of peace is worth more than a pound of victory." -- St Robert Bellarmine

NEW ON THE WEBSITE: The transcript for Boris XVII has been moved to the "Finished" section and the link to the map (and the map itself) removed. The transcript for Boris I in html format has also been added to the Finished section. A JUNTA coup map has been added to the current games.

WBC is 2-7 Aug in Lancaster, PA (Reference 2). I'm still without a roommate to share the $80/night room, though I have hopes of luring either Paul Saunders and son Michael (now 15 -- yikes, he was still in a crib at AvalonCon II) or Jack Shacklett.

Birthday greetings go out to Wayne Morrison (6 Jun) and Donald Duck (9 Jun).

BOOS & KUDOS

The Madame Bolduc Press Excellence Award (and free issue) goes this month to Rick Copeland for his COL DIP article.

This month's Ms Nar Super-Sudsy Bomb is lobbed at the absent-minded math professor.

FRANCE (Wilson): Well that's a boring way to end a game that was beginning to become boring. I kind of hoped Rick would stab Ron and try for the solo. It might have caused Ron to swing around and focus east, letting me or Rudy try our best to match Rick. But I guess it was clear to Rick and Ron that neither Rudy nor I were going to turn on the other as long as the two of them stuck together. I guess their thoughts were the same. Still, I thought Rick might try. Those three centers in Turkey were easy gains, taking him to 14. He could probably have grabbed VEN too but the remainder would have been tougher. But if Rudy and I had kept coming, pushing Italy, TUN and NAP might have been Rick's to take too. That would have been 16 or 17 putting a solo within possible reach, with a bit of luck.

First, let me say it's nice to start and finish a game with the same group. It's becoming rare these days to get through an entire game, just over 1 1/2 years in the playing, to whatever outcome, without having to replace someone. I didn't page through my game file all the way so I don't know if any of the eliminated powers abandoned us as they were going out but I suspect Jack, Dave and Cary did play out their positions. I'm sure Paul will update us in the end report.

I approached Rudy right off the bat for an alliance. I was pretty sure that A/I would form and that R/T would be unable to effectively ally and as a result A/I would have early success. That meant some western alliance needed to form quickly to meet them before they got too big. I guess I made a good case why Jack needed to be the party left out because Rudy and I coordinated fairly well the entire game. Communication went heavy and light but overall we did a pretty good job coordinating. At the end it was clear we had to cooperate to keep the A/I from breaking the stalemate line.

I thank Rudy for sticking with me and trusting me enough to leave himself exposed to the stab in order to keep the stalemate line intact. Congratulations to Rick and Ron for not succumbing to the temptation to turn on the other that might have given me or Rudy a shot to do more. I'm looking forward to what the others have to say.

Austria: Thanks for the game. Unfortunately, a four way draw is rather unsatisfying. But it does illustrate the fact that there are still some people playing Diplomacy who value a good ally more than winning the game. Bravo!

I can't wait for the rematch.

Italy: Well, I lasted out the board-kept my alliances and was pretty honest to everyone-I think. Pretty Pathetic, huh?

Ragocitti: The magic number "15" remains just out of France's reach. MIRKWOOD: Dave Anderson and Rick Copeland agreed to a division of the abandoned positions and no others applied, so the sides are set and the game can proceed. Britain remains the leader, but with war on three fronts, how long can that last? Japan and Holland have secure corners.
China, control of the center, leaving France, Turkey, and especially spread super-thinly Russia to be the victims of choice.

EMBASSY BEAT

Russia to ALL: The Czar is pleased to announce that his previous Foreign Minister has been sacked.
Recent defeats of the Russian armies, especially in the far east, have exposed the poor leadership, faulty tactics, and antiquated weaponry of the Russian Armed Forces. The only remaining option is to sue for peace. All Russian aggression is hereby ceased. All heads of state are requested to send their terms of peaceful cooperation to St. Petersburg at once. All proposals will be considered. Please respond by mail, do not send your armies!

Sincerely,

Count Russki Hadenov-Alreadi, Foreign Minister without Portfolio.

The Bottom Line

This is BORIS THE SPIDER, a 'zine dedicated to the play of multiplayer games. BORIS is usually published following the first Friday of the month by Paul & Meg Bolduc, 203 Devon Ct, Ft Walton Beach, FL 32547-3110 and currently has a subscription price of $10.50 for 12 issues in hardcopy ($13.25 in Canada, and $16 overseas) or a token $1 by e-mail (waived if overseas). A hardcopy sub will also include an e-mail sub. Make checks payable to "Paul Bolduc". BORIS can be reached at (850) 863-9081, or prbolduc@aol.com. If phoning, expect to be greeted by an answering machine. If we're here, not engaged in an epic computer battle or enthralled in baseball, hockey, or college football, and recognize your voice, you may get to talk to a real human, so don't hang up upon hearing our recorded message (it changes every power outage).
